We live in a world of change; a world where technology steadily advances and fashion changes sporadically on the whims of New York designers. This world touches our lives as students, now, in 1983.

We are the students of Annapolis Senior High — unique as a group, unique as individuals. School, to us, means more than classes and rules and report cards. It means learning to live in these exciting, demanding times.

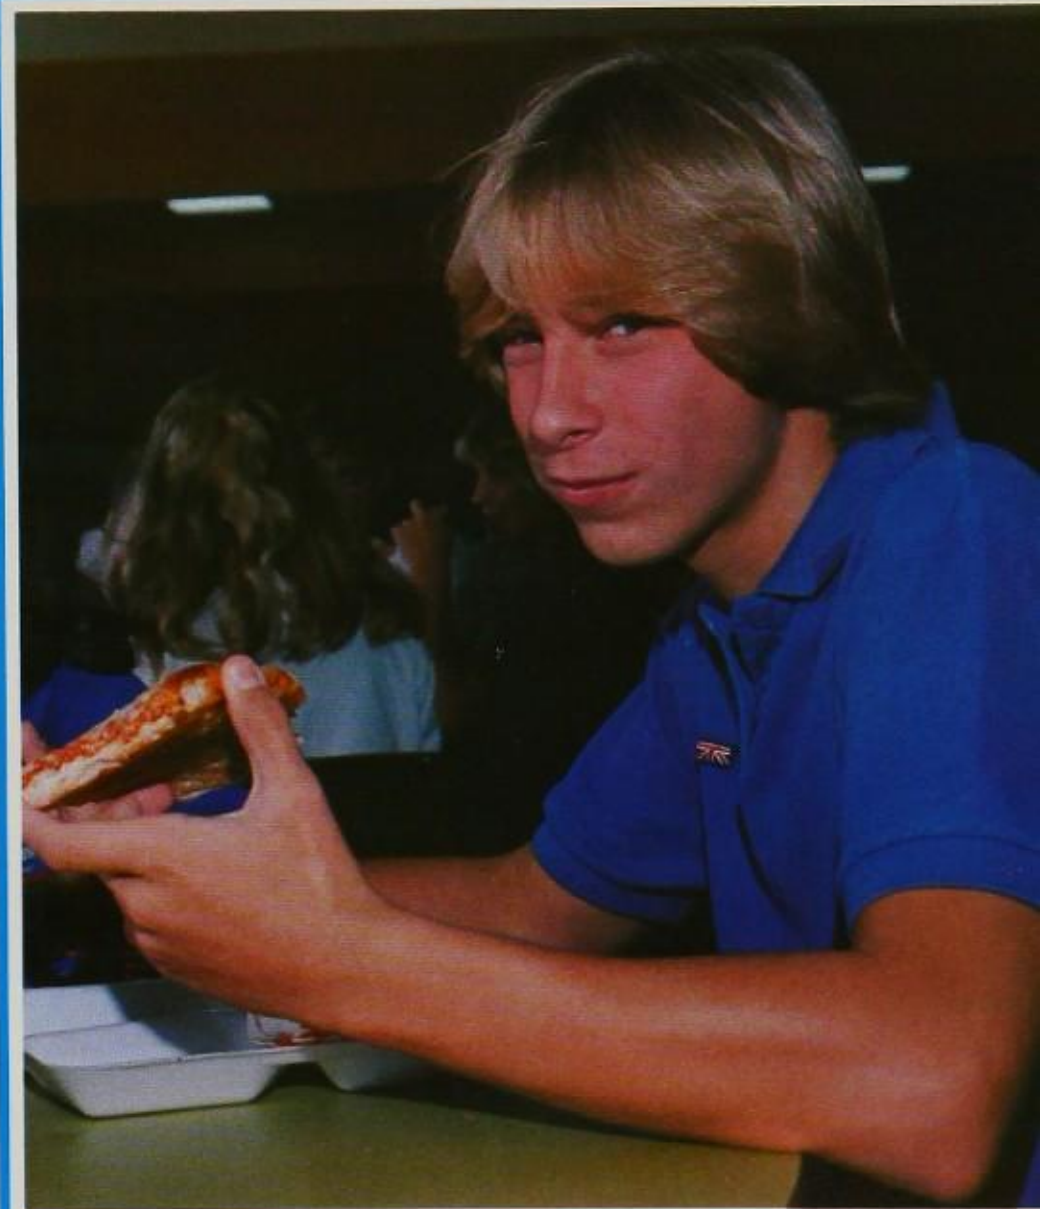

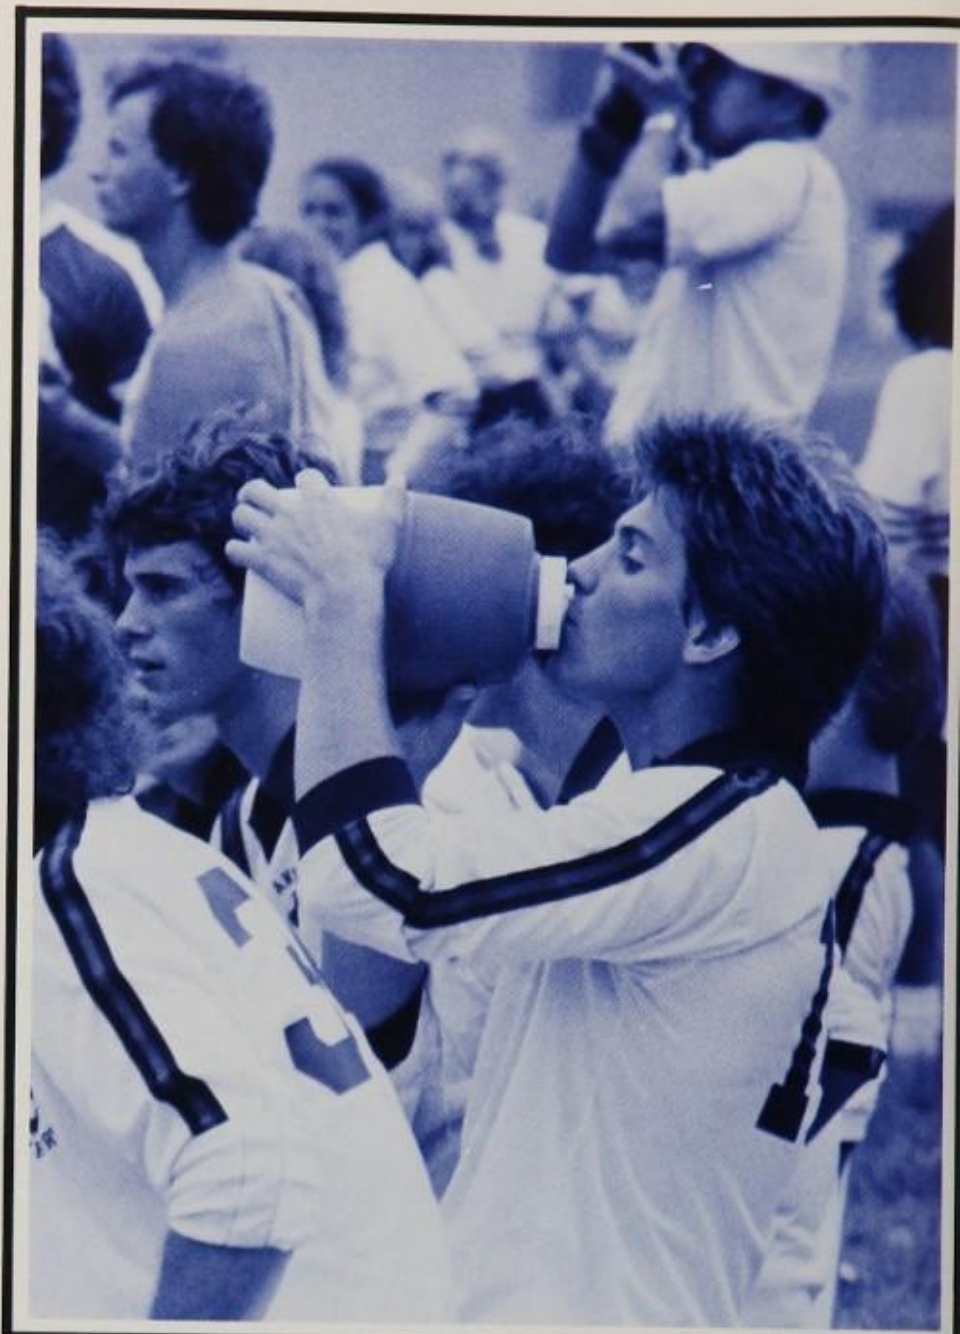

The name of our school implies that we represent the youth of Annapolis. In our vitality, our variety of people and personalities, we certainly fulfill those implications.

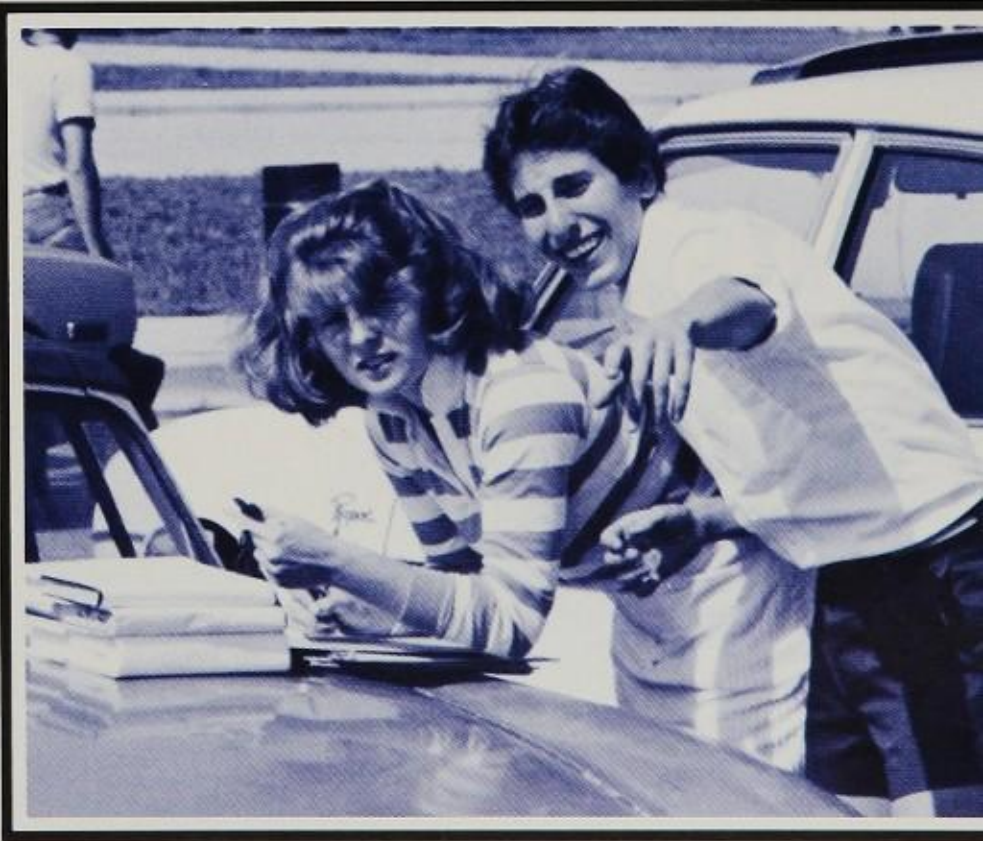

Our school teems with spirit and life. At our sporting events, dramatic productions and special activities, the students are the essential ingredients. An empty building is not really a school.

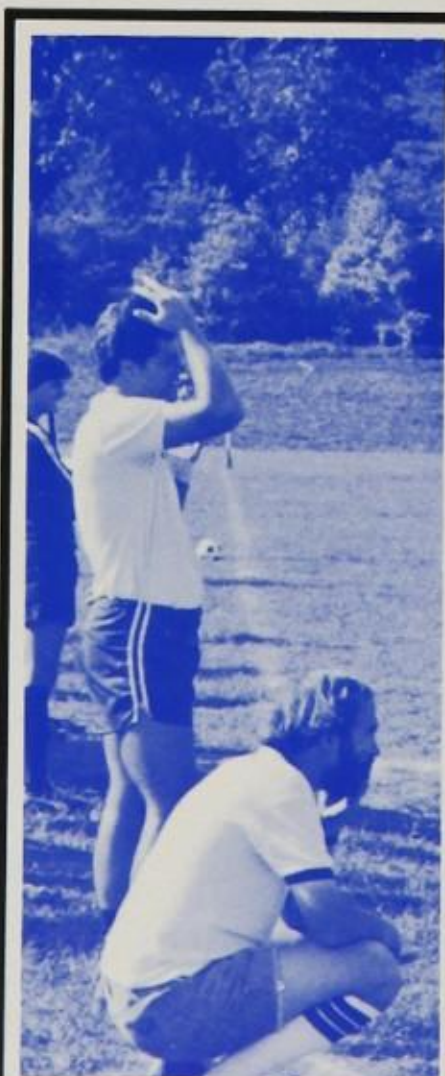

We are the future of America. Our ideals, our contributions, our spirit, will become the foundation of the next generation. We are glad to be a part of it.

As we look back on our yearbook and all our memories of school, we should always remember that Annapolis Senior High is not a school in a vacuum. Everything we do reflects life in our world and our times. Remember this year, not only as your sophomore or junior or senior year in high school, but as a whole — the year 1983.

dedication

Tomorrow holds many things in our imaginations. We dream of our independence and our graduation from twelve long years of school. But we cannot always live for the future. If we sit back and ponder the quality of life — RIGHT NOW — we will realize that it is not so bad, in fact, it is a fantastic year. We are passing milestones in our lives that can never be experienced again. In years to come, we can only look back on them as memories. The year of the world — 1983 — has touched all aspects of our lives. At Annapolis, we are unique, for we are creating and enjoying, laughing and smiling. Don't let another day slip by without realizing how fortunate we are to be living now, this year — 1983. We dedicate the yearbook to the times in which we live and all they mean in our day to day lives.

ADMINISTRATION

"Clear the Halls!"

As in all high schools, the administration and faculty comprise an integral part of the educational process. Under the leadership of Mr. Ensor, Mr. Catlin (Assistant Principal), Ms. Gist (Assistant Principal), and our three Administrative Interns: Mr. Buck, Mr. Myers and Mr. Roth (our newest addition), the administrative aspects of Annapolis are carried out as smoothly as possible. The administrators, while they might put forth a stern exterior, really are a super group of people.

GUIDANCE

"The Computer Has Done it Again!"

September and January — these are the dreaded months when scheduling occurs. During this time, one can find the Guidance office jammed with distraught students as the ever-calm counselors try to cope with computer scheduling and the many problems it creates. Yet somehow, they make it through unscathed.

Contrary to popular belief, the counselors also provide other services to the students besides "messing up" and "fixing" their schedules. Year-round, they are available for help in planning a future, picking a college, or solving personal problems.

New to the Guidance staff this year are Ann Beers and Caryn Gray. They have quickly fallen into the hectic (but happy) routine of an Annapolis Senior High Guidance Counselor.

SECRETARIES

"Behind Every Successful Man (Or Woman) Is a Good Secretary."

Donna Sadler

How well the administrators must know this saying! The secretaries of Annapolis Senior High are friendly, competent individuals who always get the job done right — be it typing transcripts, drawing up official administrative correspondence, or making out passes for all those students who "just couldn't get up in time to catch the bus."

MEDIA CENTER

The library not only serves as a resource center, but is also a study hall for students during their lunches and after school. Elizabeth Kilcourse, the librarian here at AHS, manages to keep the books in place and the tables in tact along with help from Bernice Cohn and Patricia Guida. The Media Center added a "mini-library" in one corner this year for the Maryland History class.

ENGLISH

"Homework . . . Yech!"

The English Department is headed by Grace Ann Rau, who left in January for Hawaii but will return to AHS in September. There were no new teachers in the English Department this year, but some courses were added to the curriculum, such as yearbook journalism. Among the projects taken on by some of the teachers were a S.A.T. Prep course and a struggle to keep Speech and Drama classes in the schedule. Various literature and composition courses, along with T.V. Production and individualized reading, are taught by the 18 teachers in this department.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

Bringing the World to Annapolis . . .

The Foreign Language department is headed by Eva Asher and is one of the few in the county to offer French, Spanish, Latin and German. Spanish 5 and French 5 can qualify students for the AP Exam. The German program, which has been constantly expanding, now offers German 4. Various activities in the department this year included a number of field trips and a Foreign Language Fair, held in the spring.

MATH

AHS in on the Computer Craze

Serving the school by instruction in the mathematics field, the math teachers help students in courses from remedial math to calculus. The computer math program at Annapolis is constantly expanding. This year the classes were larger than ever and new Apple computers were added.

Mr. Fred Stauffer, the department chairperson, headed eleven teachers who offer instruction in a variety of courses such as unified math, algebra, geometry, and trigonometry.

SCIENCE

Land of the Lab Book

The Science Department offers an assortment of courses, from Chemistry and Biology to Human Physiology and Animal Kingdom. Also offered to students interested in placing out of some college courses are AP Biology, AP Chemistry, and AP Physics. Under the direction of Chester Peregoy, this department has a staff of 11 teachers. Mike Codd, who teaches Biology, Physical Science, and Unified Science, was the only new addition to the Science Department this year.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Our World Today . . .

The Social Studies Department at AHS is headed by Frank Draper. Among those involved in this department are two new additions to the staff, Anastasia Samaras and Margie Perry. AHS offered 21 courses this year, some of the more unique ones being Md. History, Law and the Individual, American Government, and both U.S. and European History. The department also gives students the opportunity to take APUSH and APMEH.

MUSIC

I Believe in Music, I Believe in Love

For those students who have a special musical interest, this department offers instruction in the history of music, specific instruments, orchestral, and choral music. Some students participate in the band and orchestra, while others sing in the chorus. Special performances and other activities make this department one of AHS's finest areas of instruction.

"Take care of your future — you're going to spend the rest of your life there."

Robert Saunders

The Art and Industrial Art Departments at AHS offer a change of pace in the curriculum. A diverse selection of activities, positive attitudes, and competent teachers present the students with a number of interesting courses. Among those are water colors, papier maché architecture, drafting, woodworking, and photography. For these two departments, the future holds more displays, both of the traditional and industrial art forms, more art-related field trips, and the growth of the Art Club.

Roy Brown

Donzella Parker

the play, as do Mr. Brown and other players.

The P.E. Department is headed by Joe Laramore (affectionately known as "Big Al"), who coaches football and lacrosse. Among the sports teams are soccer, lacrosse, football, field hockey, basketball, baseball, and gymnastics. Various courses are offered by the competent teachers of the department, including dance, weight training, and drug education. The five-member staff is not completely represented in this year's yearbook, for it was not possible that we get a picture of Bertilee Covert. Ms. Covert was not in school at the time of picture taking, due to an unfortunate medical mishap. Mishap or not, she, too, deserves recognition as a member and contributor to this department.

HOME ECONOMICS

Everyone Needs A 'Home, Sweet Home'

Marietta Smallwood
Department Chairman

Joanne Lyons
Clothing, Slimnastics, Child Development; B.A. —
Shepherd College, Grad Work — Towson; Sewing, Jogging.

Janice Sparhawk
Child Development; B.S. — Home Ec; Ed. — Radford
Univ.; Sewing, Cake Decorating, Candy Making.

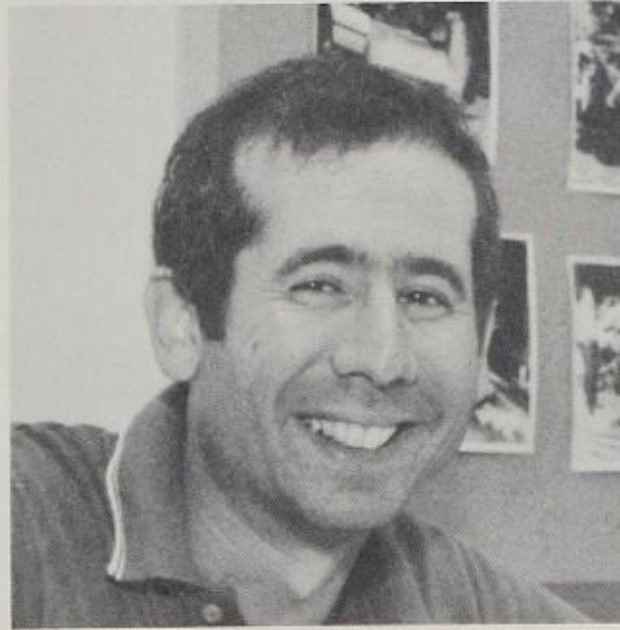

The Home Economics Department, headed by Ms. Smallwood, offers subjects other than the "typical" courses, such as science or mathematics. Courses such as child development, clothing, cooking, and slimnastics are taught by the three-member staff. Other extra-curricular events (Nursery School) are also an important part of the curriculum.

DRIVERS' EDUCATION

Richard King
Dr Ed, US History; Slippery Rock; Sports of All Kinds.

Leonard Klein
Driver Ed, JV Soccer; B.S. — U. of MD, M.S. — Hopkins,
M.S.

Mr. Klein and Mr. King make a fine pair of teachers who head up this department. Both of them are also involved in sports in the school, whenever they are not on the road with some "crazy student driver". Among the issues that they struggled with this year was the threat to cut their successful program from the curriculum.

BUSINESS EDUCATION

Accounting, office training, and typing are all courses offered in the AHS Business Department. Conducted by Beverly Conroy, this staff of nine plus John Brady, the Distributive Education teacher, add a special and important area to education. It is in this department that one can learn skills which may be necessary in college and/or future career plans. Oddly enough, the department consists of all women but that's not to say that there aren't plenty of guys who recognize its value.

VOCATIONAL EXPERIENCE

"Specialization means a lot . . ."

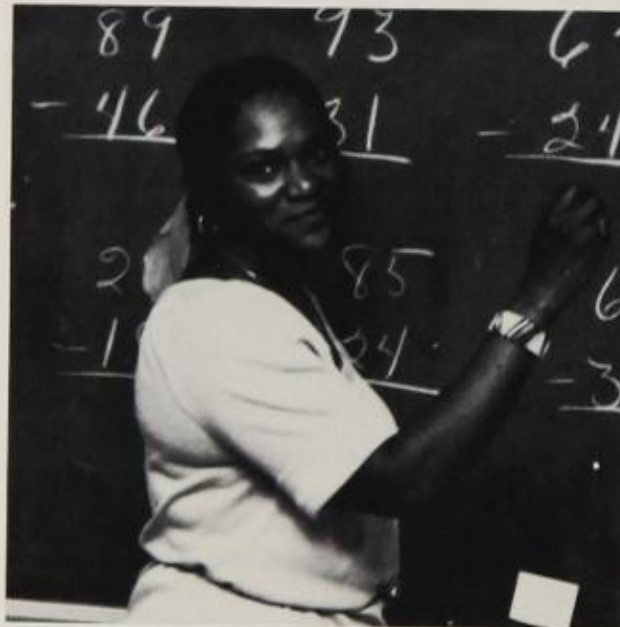

The Vocational Department at AHS offers specialized courses that help make the curriculum here well-rounded and worthwhile for everyone. Headed by Theodore Bell, this department is one of the many efficiently run areas of the educational process. Evelyn Yenias was an addendum to the department this year, which made it into a five-member team of teachers.

VO-TECH/HEALTH OCCUPATION

“The world is made of special people . . .”

The Vocational-Technical Education Program is one offered to students at AHS that makes our curriculum well-rounded and diverse. It provides students with the opportunity to learn practical skills such as carpentry, auto mechanics and cosmetology.

The Health Occupation Program is another specialized field that trains students in the area of health care. This program, offered to juniors and seniors, includes courses in various medical fields and a work-study plan for senior participants. Jobs that range from a dental receptionist to a Pharmacist can be pursued through this program.

The Graduating

LOOKING BACK . . .

Three years ago, we, the class of 1983, were sophomores. We started off the year of 1981 glossy eyed and excited, it being our first year at Annapolis Senior High.

The S.G.A. Sophomore class then consisted of Matice Wright, Russell Brown, Donna Lady and Nancy Bornstien. These four people plus other representatives did a splendid job organizing the Battle of the Bands — which raised 800 dollars. This money went to the down payment for the Junior-Senior Prom. We were the only class ever to be able to do that on our own.

In 1982 the Junior Class consisted of Matice Wright, Russell Brown, Donna Lady, Michelle Walz and eight other representatives. During the year the Junior Class presented another Show Case of the Bands, which raised 849 dollars, chose the photographer for the Prom, sold class rings through Jostens, and held a Gong show in March. These activities and others helped raise money for the 1982 Prom, which consequently turned out to be a terrific success.

Now it's 1983, and we the Seniors, soon to graduate, look back on the tasks that our class has done over the years, to help raise money for the ever popular Prom and our five year reunion, for which 500 dollars is put aside at the Board of Education.

The Senior Class now consists of Matice Wright, Donna Lady, Michelle Glass, and Jshon Thomas. These people and other representatives sponsored another Show Case of the Bands, organized the ordering of caps and gowns, and picked out our graduation announcements.

The senior class also has to have money left over to help the Junior class with the Prom. All in all, over the past three years the class of 1983 has accomplished a great deal, and the WAKE staff commends you for your hard work and determination.

"What did he say . . . ?"

When your attention span drops below 10 seconds, when it takes you 45 minutes to get up in the morning, when watching Three's Company becomes a good reason not to do your homework, when your teachers no longer recognize you because they haven't seen you in three months, when you start making summer plans in October . . . — then you've got it! That dreaded disease that's been coming on for 12 years finally has you in its grip! As a matter of fact it's had some of you in its grip since you were sophomores! Truth to tell, there's nothing you can do about it — so relax, lean back, and enjoy it — SENIORITIS.

Students present thriller

"Wall Street Dark" is coming to Annapolis High School. The Annapolis High School club will present this famous mystery thriller by Frederick Knott in the school auditorium. This show is considered one of the most suspenseful ever written. No one is allowed to enter or leave the theater during the last 15 minutes of the show.

"Wall Street Dark" is directed by Chuck Dick and the cast includes: Jennifer Crane as Lucy Sledge, John Thompson as Harry Hunt Jr. and Dr. Dan Carver as Dr. Mike Talman. Kenny Hill as Sgt. Carlson, Tucker Johnson as Ullrich, Eric Ford as Sam Hendricks, plus Andy Nelson and Paul Willy as the policemen.

"Wall Street Dark" will be presented Wednesday through Saturday, Nov. 17 to 20, at 8 p.m. Tickets are $2.00 at the door.

For more information call 286-5000.

STUDENT LIFE:

BEYOND THE CLASSROOM

A COLLECTION OF CRAZIES

Grass skirts in the winter? Togas and laurel wreaths? Devo glasses and mini skirts? Who would wear these crazy outfits to school? Only the enthusiastic Annapolis Senior High School students celebrating their spirit by dressing up for their annual Spirit Week. Certain days included Hawaiian/Beach Bum Day, on which spirited students wore shorts, Hawaiian shirts, flip-flops, and even grass skirts in 40 degree weather; Punk Rock Day, Jock Day, School Colors Day, and Toga Day. Teachers even got in on the fun with the "Animal House Challenge", where the department in which the most teachers wore togas won.

PARADING PANTHERS

Halloween may not have been a big event this year, due to cyanide scares, tainted candybar threats, and the Tylenol issue, but the AHS students overcome the low spirits of Halloween and psyched themselves up for a fantastic parade on October 22, one week before the holiday that, for many, ceased to exist this year.

The parade began in the late afternoon, when the floats and the entourage following each marched up Mainstreet. They were judged by a panel of teachers here at AHS. The places given to particular floats were based on originality, relation to the homecoming theme, and school spirit. First place was awarded to the SAC float (Ebony and Ivory), second was awarded to the cheerleaders clever creation of various sports, and third place went to the Girls' Soccer Team. The Homecoming parade this year seemed to be a large success.

... BUT THE SPIRIT KEEPS GOING

Through thick and thin, you can always count on the Panther's spirit to pull you through. This year those spirits kept us going through the defeat of our Homecoming game against the Meade Mustangs. The score was 21-12, but the Panthers gave it their best.

A NIGHT TO REMEMBER

Helium balloons and streamers in blue and silver helped to create the beautiful night club atmosphere at the Homecoming dance, held on October 23rd. Spring Fever provided the music and sang the theme song "If This World Were Mine." For most, the dance was only a small part of the extravaganza. The Homecoming game, the parties afterward, the dance itself, along with cocktail parties and breakfasts all combined to create a memorable weekend.

FOLIOS OF FASHION

Call it freaky, call it far-out, or call it a fad. No year passes without some change in clothing styles, hair styles, or music. The year 82-83 proved to be an extraordinary year, for there was room at Annapolis Senior High for all odds and ends to match up; that is to say, it was possible for ANYONE to be "in." In every room, there was always at least one preppy person, one new wave wonder, and one odd nut. Whether the fad was french braids, or green hair, Nikes or purple tennies, Miniskirts or Garfield — everyone found his niche. The variation in the styles this year at AHS was only an example of the fads in the rest of the world. So let this be a reminder to whomever may look back on the year 1982-1983: No matter who you "hung with," where you went, or what you wore, you were most likely in one of the "in" crowds!!!

THE LIGHTER SIDE OF EDUCATION

A.H.S. NEWS

DANCING IN A WINTER WONDERLAND

The 1983 winter dance, known as the Winter Whirl, was held in the cafeteria here at AHS on February 5. The decorations were put up by the members of the senior class and SGA. At this dance, no date was necessary and dress was casual. The attendees were, of course, clad in all kinds of garments, from jeans to dresses to mini-skirts. Bobby Ciancaglini was voted the Senior Snowman, and the other four with the most votes (the flakes) were Ed Hensler, Tommy Johnson, Moe Parker, and Frank Snyder.

Paul Willey, Mark Papecke, Gray Maggard, Pat Jones, Andy Nelson, Amy White, Nick Guida, Susan Mobly, Allison Kramer, Lisa Metrocardi, Randy Boldygon, Charlie Fowler, and Tonier Johnson

The play presented in the fall of '82 by the drama club was the mystery thriller "Wait Until Dark." Many hours of rehearsal, and set construction proved worthwhile, because when the lights dimmed and the curtain went up, the non-stop excitement began. This intense drama, on the evenings of November 17 through November 20, was well presented by the eight member cast, and held the audience in suspense until the last moment.

THE GONG SHOW

The sound of the threatening gong became a familiar one at the annual Gong Show, presented by the Junior Class. On the evening of December 3rd, a wide variety of acts found their place on the stage of the auditorium. Among these acts were the First Prize winners "The Stop-Stops" clad in the fashionable (for women!) mini skirts. Second Place was captured by Theresa Johnson with her beautiful rendition of the song "I Honestly Love You," and "Men on Strike" claimed Third. Bands, chorus lines, commercials, and skits all combined to make this night another to remember.

Top Left: One of the liveliest groups — The Stop-Stops." Top Right: Our charming M.C. — John Irvine. Bottom Right: Meet the judge! Bottom Left: Pete and Frank join in the fun with the cheerleaders.

Top Right: Theresa Johnson — 2nd place with "I Honestly Love You."
 Top Left: Sing your heart Out! Middle Left: Ban the Bands! Bottom Left:
 One of Donny Smith's best sides?? Middle Right: Mini skirts were definitely

... until the Falcons

Perhaps 1982 was not the year for football. The NFL didn't seem to think so (remember the strike?). The 1982 Fighting Panthers, opening their season with a 54-0 rout of Kenwood and a second place statewide ranking then finishing with a record of 4-6, didn't seem to think so either. Despite the tale told by the scoreboard, however, the Fighting Panthers had some outstanding talent on the field and lost a few games where close decisions and controversial calls were involved. So, as the story goes, the strike ended after 57 long days and the Panthers, too, experienced a major turnaround. Either to make up for lost opportunities, to teach their archrivals a lesson, or perhaps in a fantastic combination of the two, the Panthers treated everyone who traveled to the AACC Stadium to a rainy-but exciting-season finale by stunning the S.P. Falcons 21-8. Congratulations to the coaches and the team for a very . . . interesting season.

TO THE TEAM

Now that the season is over, we realize it is not the loss that really counts. The "all important" numbers fade from the scoreboard, the empty stadium is swept, and the lights, one by one, go out. Yet it is what remains: the echo of the band, the fallen confetti, the cleatmarks in the mud, reminding us that you were "there at 7:30, ready to play football." The Annapolis tradition is one of excellence, of sportsmanship, of spirit, and of determination. And while that may not have been enough to take us to the top, while it cannot change the papers, the rankings, or the statistics, it does mean something to the fans; and we would just like to say "1982 Fighting Panthers: to us you will always be winners."

VARSIITY'S HOPES FOR NEXT YEAR

Although the J.V. drew less publicity and fewer spectators than their Varsity counterpart, the Panthers kicked-off to an excellent season with a 7-3 record. "We had a good season," replied Coach Codd. After many hours of practice and Saturday morning games, those linemen that popped and the backs that pitter patted have given next year's Varsity high hopes. Remember guys "eat lots of meat and potatoes."

Whaa Happened?!

The season started off great. They were 4 and 0. But then, Lady Luck deserted the team. Before they knew it, they had lost seven in a row. "We just can't seem to get our act together," said junior Dave Adams. "We play great on the field but not on the scoreboard," stated the frustrated captain, Frank Snyder. One fan blamed the team losses on bad calls from referees. The team went out in style, though, winning their last game over Meade in double overtime. Way to go Annapolis! Better luck next year!

The J.V. Soccer team experienced the thrill of victory and the agony of defeat. They finished their season with one win, one tie, and nine losses. Bringing home the trophy is great but participating is even better. Many of the J.V. games were lost by a mere point.

Coached by "crazy legg's Klien," the team gained much experience for next year's Varsity.

It's How You Play the Game

Have you heard this saying before? Well, for our girls' soccer team it speaks the truth. It seems as though our kicking Panthers played their best games against the better teams. Coach King feels, "We like to win but that's not everything." The idea behind organized sports is "to build character and have fun." Statistically, the season was disappointing, but the girls played well and had fun. Their float — "need a date, we've got the bait" — won 3rd in the Homecoming Parade and they held a fund raiser at Yesteryears. The Tri-Captains were Beth Koval, Louise Crane, and Kim Williams. Beth and Muy Hagan received Honorable Mention from the Coachs' Team.

NEW SPORT HITS ANNAPOLIS

J. V. Soccer

The world of soccer is growing. New to Annapolis this year is J.V. Girls' Soccer. Statistics show the season was a success: 3 wins, 2 ties, 3 losses. The J.V. team gives high hopes to next year's varsity. The Tri-Captains were Mandy Wanamaker, Dorothy Hayward, and Amy Petzrick. Stacy Schenck feels, "I am proud of our team considering our experience."

OT EFFORTS GAIN 3RD IN THE REGION

With competition growing in A.A. County, the girls faced many tough teams, especially the archrival Severna Park. Their perfected skills, determination, and high spirits led them to take third place in the region, an improvement from last year's fourth. Seven of their twelve games went into over-time which shows individual strength and teamwork.

INEXPERIENCE HINDERS JV

but . . .

This year's JV Field Hockey team finished the season with a 3-6 record and a 2-3 record in the county. Although the girls started with little experience, they played good ball. The team expressed much enthusiasm and spirit in perfecting skills. A Field Hockey team consists of eleven players. During the season, a majority of the games were fought with only nine players. Nevertheless, these were some of the best games. Next year's goal is to "Stick It" to Severna Park.

VOLLEYBALL REBUILDS

Row 1: Chi Le, Dawn Sipes, Deena Joyce, Terry Jay, Eva Rawlings, Becky Cheers. Row 2: Kathleen Lanks, Linda Dawson, Becky Bradner, Coach Joyce McKay, JoHannah Ruddle, Dawn Fortik, Holly Gaddy.

The powerful but inexperienced spiking Panthers finished the season with a 6-8 record. Throughout the season the Panthers played great defensively. Underclass players were often exposed to "the game" in hope of rebuilding the team for next year. It seems as our Panthers coached by Joyce McKay and captained by Lina Dawson played well against teams that should have "creamed" them. Considering past records, volleyball has a great deal to be proud of.

A TEE, A DRIVE, A PUTT A HOLE IN ONE

Driving the ball to the farthest green, many feet from the sand, inches from the hole, or better yet a hole in one, seems to be the dream of the golfer. Hitting the ball just right, not too soft or too hard, takes total concentration. Many matches are filled with frustrations and disappointments but then again many are filled with the thrill of success.

The golfers traveled twice a week to Dwight D. Eisenhower Golf Course for practices. G finished the season third in the county and fifth in the district. Bruce Spencer received the MVP at the Fall Sport's Banquet.

Over hills, across streams, through trees, comes the joy of running. Pumping adrenalin and creating stamina, are characteristics of those few who find individual satisfaction in cross-country running. The cross-country course is marked through the trees that border AHS's campus — truly an enjoyable and pretty place to run. This year Annapolis hosted the A.A. County Cross-Country Invitational, only select schools of running merit were asked to attend. The boys team placed 3rd in the county and the girls 5th. MVP's were Dan Stroncak and Carolyn Coffay.

When you hear music blasting over the speakers, fans cheering, and see the Running Panthers entering the gym, it's time for the excitement of Panther basketball. The versatile Panther team contributed their "all" throughout their winning season. Beating our arch rival Southern undoubtedly proved to be the highlight of the season; since we have not beaten them in years. Throughout the season all players received playing time.

TEAM EFFORTS PROVE VICTORIOUS

Displaying good fundamental basketball, the well balanced J.V. team showed the efforts and attitudes of "Winners." The team was dependent upon all players, not just one or two. Their tremendous season was a reflection of the coaching of Leon Washington.

YOUNG TEAM PLACES 3rd IN THE COUNTY

Every Tuesday and Friday night, the Varsity Wrestling Team met a new opponent on the way to their second place county ranking. Each wrestler only spent a total of minutes or less in actual competition.

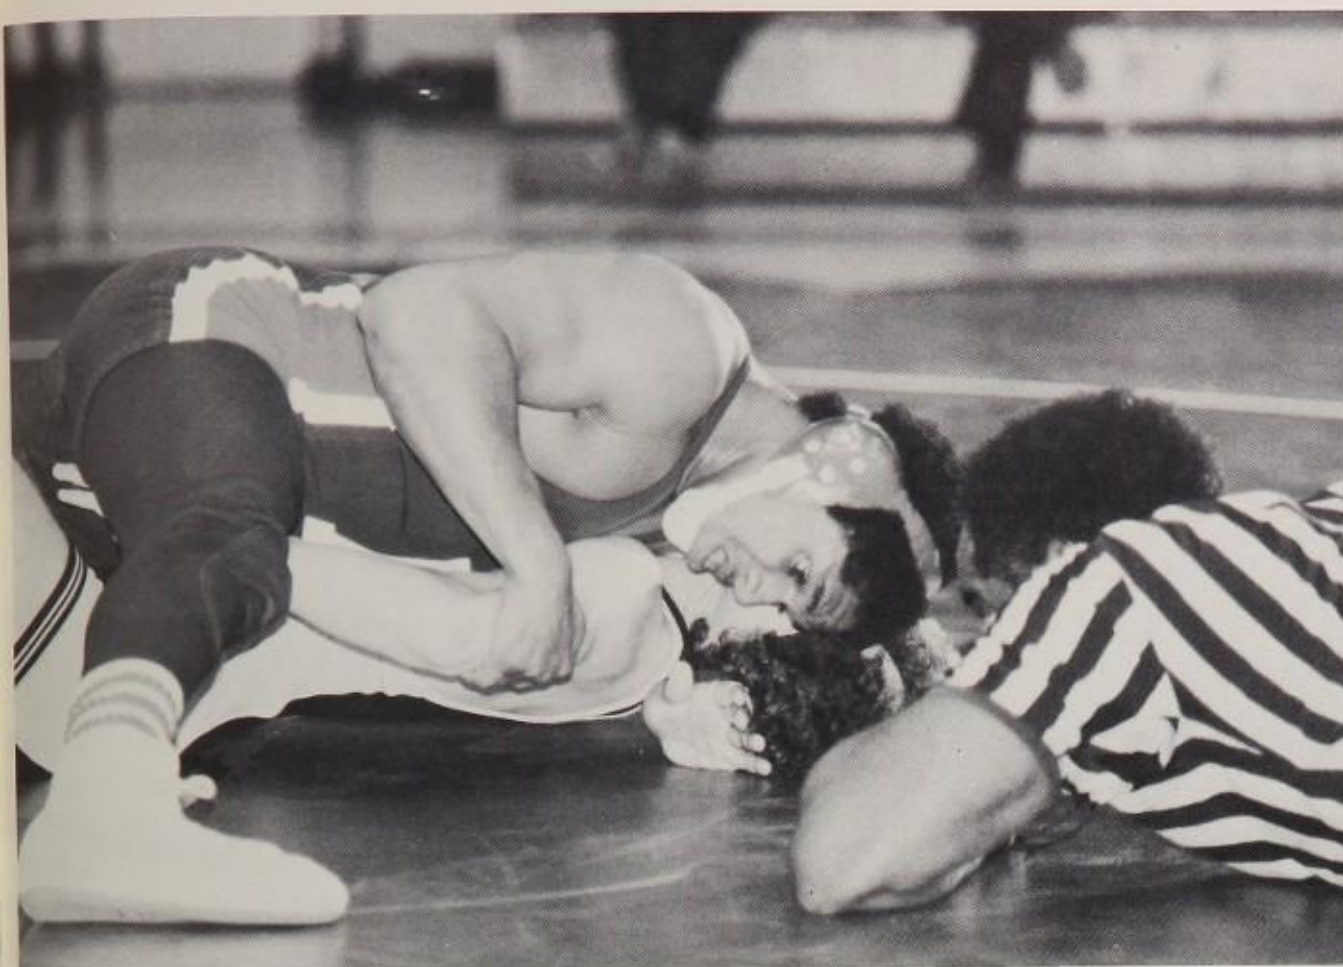

but the preparation, which involved daily practice (and sometimes near starvation or hours of jogging in order to "make weight") required patience, determination, and a lot of sore muscles. The crazy dieting of the wrestlers, who lose large amounts of weight the day of a match only to visit McDonalds or the concession stand to stuff themselves afterward, constantly puzzles their friends and teachers. Since the 1983 team consisted of mainly sophomores and juniors, next year's team looks promising.

BIGGER CROWDS

... would help

Shoot! Pin him! Spin on him! Half Nelson! Sound Familiar? Probably not; unless you are a spectator at a wrestling match. Perhaps the sport that benefits most from a supportive crowd is wrestling. Along with crowd spirit, wrestlers must rely on skill and concentration in order to pin, gain back points, or win by decision. The J.V. Wrestlers proved to be excellent prospects for next year's varsity.

A RESPONSIBLE TEAM FACES SEASONAL DOWNS

Although this year's Varsity has not had a winning season, as in the past, Coach Vain feels they are one of the most "responsible" and "enjoyable" teams he has ever coached. Shelia Watson a returnee, also a leading scorer in the county, along with Beth Rifkey, a good defensemen, and the rest of the team, demonstrated the many hours of practices, drills, and teamwork needed to provide the team with many comebacks and close games.

SHOOTING TO SUCCESS

Dietra Ellis, Diedre Culbert, Tammy Johnson, Dynisha Coates, Latanya Parker, Coach O'Shea, Kelly Booth, Dominique Williams, Sherray Miller, Verda Harris, Deena Joyce, Veronica Johnson.

The J.V. Girls had a fantastic season this year. Captain Sherray Miller led the team with her knowledge and experience. The girls, who suffered their only loss at the hands of Southern, learned a lot about discipline and teamwork. Coach O'Shea was extremely fond of her team, who affectionately dubbed her "The White Shadow," a name which she says she "is very proud of." Coach O'Shea wishes the best to every girl on the team, each of which is special in her own way.

The Flying Panthers came back strong from last years team. The large squad offered much spirit and hope for the future (many talented juniors and sophomores). Under strong leadership by Ricky Perry and Ronda Krueger, the team consistantly placed high in hurdling and high jumping. In all meets the Boys Team never finished lower than second. Ricky Perry placed first in hurdling and high jumping at the county meet. Also David Mumford placed first in pole vaulting.

CHEERING: it's not all fame and glory

Perhaps the most celebrated cheerleaders in the world of football (when the NFL isn't striking) belong to the Dallas Cowboys. Even these famous young women, however, are rewarded for their hours of practice with little else than free admittance to home games and a nominal fee of $15 per game. This fact is overlooked by most people, for it is often taken for granted that cheerleaders will be at the game, providing entertainment when the action on the field or court is slow, yelling themselves hoarse to raise spirits and support the Panthers. This year the Varsity and J.V. squads, co-sponsored by Ms. Davis and Ms. Lyding, covered over 150 events and 6 different sports. Besides cheering after school, at night, and on weekends, the girls held fundraisers, sponsored spirit week, won 2nd place for their Homecoming float and comprised a major portion of the pep rallies. Few people really appreciate what they do, but to the cheerleaders, it's still worth it.

catch it!

Like most J.V. sports, the J.V. Cheerleaders are somewhat forgotten, yet they are the "morale majority." Their spirit and enthusiasm is much appreciated by teams and any spectators. To be an Annapolis cheerleader, one must devote many hours to practices and games. Since cheerleaders are not cheer-performers, but are what encourages a crowd to "yell" and "scream" for a team, by displaying chants, familiar cheers, and pyramids, their goal is to lead a team to victory. Whether the team is winning or losing, the girls vivaciously give support.

CLASS OF EIGHTY-FIVE

Alone in the halls at last! Don't you wish you had it so good? If you can remember back to August 31st, you would have begged for it, even now. Upperclassmen showing the bewildered sophomore the wrong direction to first period is now over.

Since then, we've come a long way. We, The Sophomore Class, have been helping to magnify our capabilities and identify this small class of about 600 people. We are only a small ratio of the student body, but this fact does not discourage our class.

We, as sophomores, are not always alone in the hallways. Neither are we alone in the school's student body. We are part of a union of juniors and seniors, making the students' voice heard.

Sophomores. The mighty, the alive.

Putting UP with Put downs

It is not easy being lowerclassmen in a big high school such as Annapolis Senior. We have to maintain control just as the upperclassmen SOMETIMES do. In the years to come, we will be listening to sophomores courageously trying to put up with those same put downs!

The Night Before Finals

It was the night before finals
And all through the home
not one pindrop was heard
Only noises of groans.

Chapters to be read
And studied with care
With goals of not failing
Soon to be there,

Teachers were content
All snuggled in their beds
While visions of failings
Danced in their heads.

A typical scene during the day of finals

ALMOST TIME!

The night before finals can be the most difficult time of the school year. Here we are reminded of the chapters we should have read, the notes we should have taken and the attention we should have given to our teachers. The library is no longer a social meeting place — but a place to study. We are looking forward to the end of finals — but what about next year??

TO CAPTURE THE YEAR . . .

Not as easy as it seems!

What goes on all year in the tiny, paper-strewn publications room behind 212B? You can go there any day and find yearbook members working well into the late afternoon, piecing together the 256 pages of memories that make up the 1983 yearbook. Production of the 1983 WAKE started in July, when the editor and assistant editor, with the help of Mr. Pogonowski, the yearbook advisor, began the process of evaluating applications and choosing section editors and staff. With the exception of several general staff meetings, WAKE members work independently, cropping, writing copy, arranging layouts, and meeting deadlines. The hours are long, and the staff must wait until May to see the finished product. The staff tries to make each yearbook different and better than the last, a place to turn for memories and to recall the events of the year gone by.

AND NOW FOR THE NEWS . . .

Only 25¢!

Many of us are familiar with the sight of ANCHOR staff members moving about the cafeteria, asking for a quarter in exchange for a paper. Most of us, whether we buy an ANCHOR or not, manage to read its contents and have found that the paper often provides informative, interesting, or humorous stories about what is going on at AHS. The "Senior Spotlight", "Up Close and Personal," "You Said It," and "Dear Annie" are regular features of this publication, whose advisors, Mrs. Eberline and Mrs. Jones, and staff manage to produce approximately six papers annually.

A BEST SELLER!

The Annapolis High literary magazine Perception, has been a bestseller at Annapolis High for eight years. The magazine is a composite of poems, short stories, and art work. Though the Perception's staff writes the majority of the literary works, they gladly accept work from any student. Perception, sponsored by Mrs. Nancy Wanbaugh, is published bi-yearly. This year the staff tried something new and published a Christmas issue in place of the regular fall issue.

THIS HEADLINE IS DEBATABLE

The Debating Club, sponsored by Mrs. Grace Anne Rau and Mrs. Evelyn Yenias was a new addition to the extracurricular activities, here at Annapolis High. The Club was supplemented with the Speech II course, a debating class introduced this year. The Debating Club competes with schools from all over Maryland on this year's topic Nuclear Arms. They participate in the Triple Crown, a state wide competition held in the fall, winter, and spring. Competition is held on individual and team basis.

SGA OVERCOMES FINANCIAL DIFFICULTIES

Once the elections were over and the new SGA established, their biggest project was organizing Homecoming 1982. Months of planning went into this activity: choosing a band, deciding on decorations, conducting Queen elections, buying flowers for the court, and making sure parade and dance ran smoothly. Proceeds from homecoming went to buy athletic trophies and awards. The SGA sponsored the Bloodmobile in December and participated in other community services. Everyone in the school benefitted from the hard work of the SGA and their contributions are appreciated.

The Senior Class, under the direction of Matice Wright and Donna Lady, endeavored to help the Junior Class meet costs for the 1983 Junior-Senior Prom. In addition to this responsibility, they tried to set aside some funds for Class of '83 reunions. A Band showcase in the spring and class T-shirt sales were also included on their busy list of "things to do."

Junior Class President, Mary Werlwas, sums up the year's activities in one word: "PROM." She notes, "When you support Junior Class activities, you support lower priced Prom tickets." The Junior Class had an uphill struggle with this responsibility, for they started the year many hundreds of dollars in debt. The 4th Annual Gong Show, attended by a sell-out crowd, raised over $1,300.00 and was by far their biggest fundraiser. The Junior class is also responsible for choosing a company to contract for the school rings.

Members of the Sophomore Class become very close-lipped at the end of October for, around this time, lots of hopeful young ladies and curious students question them as to the outcome of the Homecoming Queen elections. They retain secrecy, however, so that the announcement of the Queen on the "big night" is a complete surprise. While the Sophomore Class does place a down payment on the Prom at the conclusion of the year, the major portion of their responsibility involves learning the ropes of the SGA so that they can make more valuable contributions in years to come.

"PARLEZ-VOUS FRANCAIS?"

Of course they speak French, they are the French Club! The Annapolis Senior High French Club, sponsored by Madame Asher, has been tentatively planning an exchange trip for July. The exchange takes place with the French students of College de Louise de Savoie, a school in Chambéry, France. On alternate years our French Club has this opportunity to spend three weeks in France. During their stay they also visit Paris, Switzerland, and Luxembourg. Last year the AHS French Club hosted 16 French students. The French Club's bi-monthly meetings aren't only for dreaming of the Champs Elysees, la Tour Eiffel or French pastries. They spend their time planning fund raisers. This year they held various booths at the "A-Foreign-a-Fair" in the spring. The French Club also sold "Cram-o-Grams" during the hectic exam time.

"AMIGOS POR LA VIDA"

The Spanish Club of Annapolis Senior High is a very special one because of the close friendships that have grown out of it. This year the Spanish Club raised money for their "fiesta grande" at the end of the year with a number of fundraisers. They also entered a float in the Homecoming and a group of Spanish-speaking students participated in the All-Country, all Spanish weekend at Arlington Echo.

AFS WILL CHANGE THE SHAPE OF YOUR WORLD

Row One: Patricia Rose, Monica Thulin, Ginger Ellis, Helen Sydavar. Row Two: Tom Zohlen, Holly Copus, Maria Moze Luce, John Skordas.

The American Field Service Club at Annapolis Senior High School was very active and successful this year. The club raised money selling balloons at the Homecoming game, candy grams, and a number of bake sales. AFS also entered a float in the Homecoming parade. This year, as in past years, the AFS sponsored a foreign exchange student. Kamom Angkavichai of Thailand, spent his senior year at Annapolis. He participated in the Annapolis High School Panther Choir and was an active member in AFS. Kamon was involved and he had great school spirit just as if he was a native-born Annapolitan.

THE ART OF ENTERTAINING

Dynamic Dramatics

Each year the Drama Club presents two major productions. This year their choices were the mystery thriller "Wait Until Dark," presented in November, and the popular musical "Fame," for which hopeful young actors and actresses turned out in droves. Mr. Dick coaches, coordinates and controls all productions. Hours of hard practice, lots of determination, and many unsettled nerves — all paid off on opening night when the applause and enjoyment of the audience rewarded the efforts of everyone involved.

Left: In portraying her character, Jennifer Crane had to maintain a fixed stare throughout the production. Above: Props and costumes are important in the development of the play.

The National Honor Society members are students who have maintained a high standard of integrity and scholarship. The goal of the Honor Society is to promote "scholarship, leadership, character and service." Students who hold a 3.5 grade point average are eligible to be participants of NHS. They must write an essay explaining the reasons why they qualify and what they can offer to the Honor Society. The 'application' is submitted to Mrs. Burke, the Honor Society's sponsor. The induction of the new members occurs in the fall. Something that characterizes the ceremony: the lighting of candles to symbolize the different qualities for which members are chosen. They participate in many activities, such as; decorating the children's ward at the hospital, visiting retirement homes and a tutoring service for AHS students. Their biggest project of the year was work done with the Peace Corps on a 'partnership' program, in which they sponsored a youth hostel in Nepal.

CALCULATOR HEADS?

Some popular questions are, "What is the Math Team?" and "AHS has a Math Team?" Who are we and what do we do? No, we don't sit motionless drilling on advanced calculus problems until our heads feel like calculators. We do have meetings on Thursdays after school and work on challenging math problems ranging from algebra to trig., and maybe a little calculus. So those of you out there who enjoy a little challenge, no matter what math class you are in, should give the Math Team a try next year.

INTELLECT, DETERMINATION, AND HARD WORK

Team members Neil Manson, Skott Klebe and Al Kotchi join advisor Mrs. Rau for the It's Academic team picture.

It's Academic is a quiz show which involves representatives from three schools to compete for school scholarships. The show was televised on WBAL-TV, channel 11, November 27. To prepare for the competition the team members spent many hours after school quizzing one another. The Panther team finished second behind Thomas Johnson High School.

Right: Advisor Phil Greenfield stands with It's Academic team member Al Kotchi and alternate Anne Cryer.

"TOGA! TOGA!"

The Annapolis Senior High Latin Club, sponsored by Mr. Verrillo, hosted the Anne Arundel County annual SATURNALIA and fall CERTAMEN this year. "What in the world is a Saturnalia and Certamen?" you ask. The Saturnalia is a festival in honor of the Greek god Saturn. The Certamen is an "It's Academic" type program, only one is quizzed on Latin translations and vocabulary. This year the Certamen was held in the Panther cafeteria and foreign language area. This year's Latin II team won a first place trophy over Severna Park, Old Mill, and Bowie. During the spring, the Latin Club participated in several Certamens in the Virginia, D.C., and Maryland area.

THE COMPUTER CRAZE

The Data Processing Club allows students a chance to study the field of data processing. The club members learn to deal with computers as they apply them to business situations. The club is composed of students who participate in the Cooperative Occupation Program. A majority of the club members work in the business field. The Data Processing Club was directed by Mrs. Nancy Mitch.

The Annapolis Senior High Art Club, sponsored by Ms. Stump, offers students individual time to work on their own projects and get together with others who are also interested in art. Their fund-raising activities included making posters and T-shirts for other AHS clubs. The Art Club painted the new ticket booth outside of the Panther Stadium. They have participated in many school wide exhibits which include an exhibit at the Board of Education in the months of September through December, exhibits at the Annapolis Mall and during February and March an exhibit at the Public Library.

THE PANTHERS MARCH ON

The Annapolis Senior High Marching Band, conducted by Dan Smith and assistant conductor Buddy Corse, proudly presented enjoyable concerts at the pre-game and halftime shows during the football season. The Marching Band also executed a fine performance at the Anne Arundel County Band Exhibition. They participated in the Homecoming Parade, the Holiday Parade up Main Street and a march through the Annapolis Mall. At the end of the Marching Band's season, they gave a stirring performance on stage. To raise funds the AHS Marching Band sold pecans and sponsored a flea market and "A-Play-a-Thon."

During the winter season the AHS Marching Band, directed by Michael Svec, changes into the Annapolis Senior High Concert Band. The Concert Band held many concerts and Solo-Ensemble Festivals this year. A selected few sat in with the USNA Band. For their fund raising activities they sold subs and pecans.

Right: Laura Hamons, an All-County Band member, devotes much of her time to practicing the French horn.

"MUSIC TO MY EARS!"

Bach, Strauss, Beethoven, Wagner . . . What do these names mean to you? To about forty young musicians here at Annapolis, they mean great classical music. The A.H.S. Orchestra is a compact group of students devoted to the enjoyment and performance of orchestral music. Although hindered by a limited rehearsal schedule, the orchestra still manages to present the wonderful concerts that have earned it respect from both the community and judges in local and state festivals. Comprised of many skilled musicians, including, four all-state orchestra members and two all-state band members, the orchestra is very proud of its well-earned reputation.

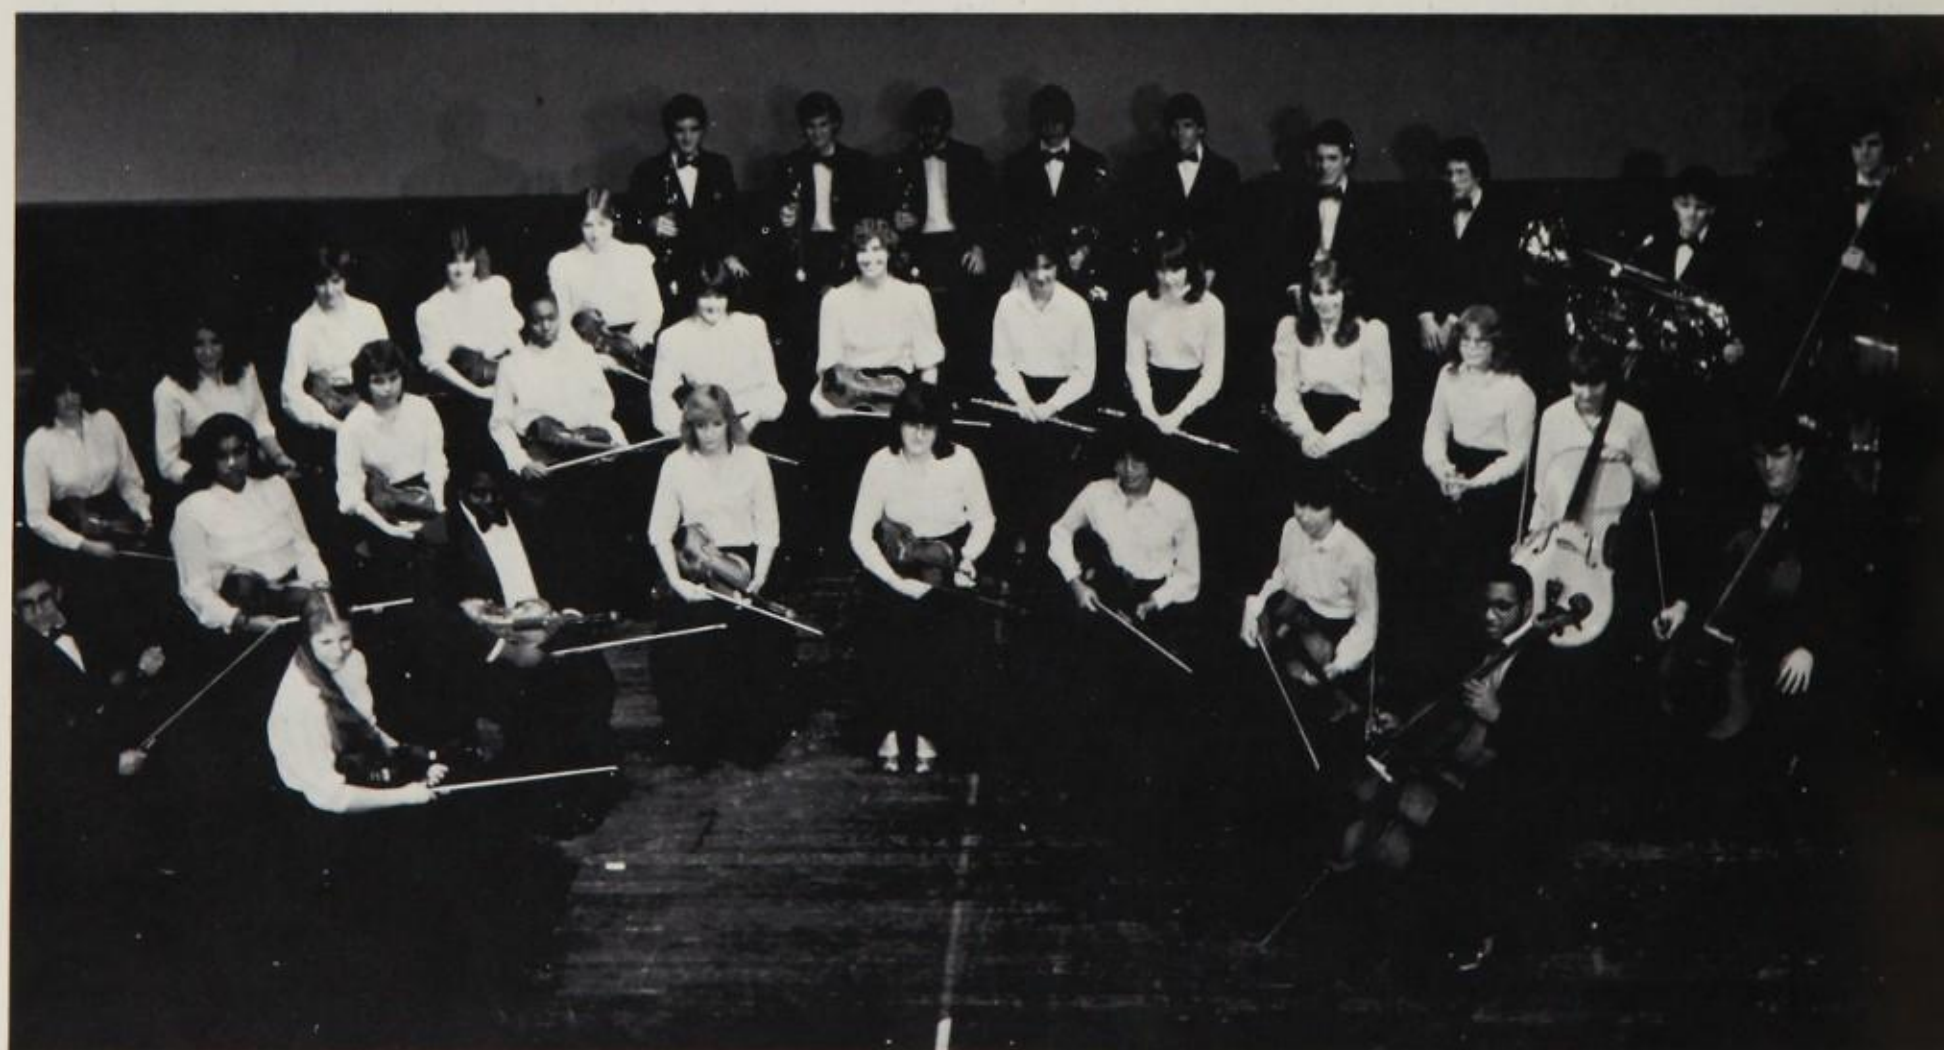

Second violinists Kim Wolod and Bill Slakey show the concentration and poise that is necessary in an ensemble of this quality.

All State Orchestra: Alexos Demos, Rachel Randell, Margaret Csorba, Lisa Matricardi.

Orchestra Officers: Margaret Csorba, Jshon Thomas.

THE MUSICAL PANTHERS

The Panther Choir offers to those who enjoy singing, the chance to get together. During the fall of this year the Choir held a concert at the Annapolis Mall. The Choir also participated in the Back to School Night Concert and sold refreshments at the AHS fall play production "Wait Until Dark." They have given numerous concerts throughout the year and have hosted many guest singers.

Music Club: Row 1: Beverly Bruce, Koula Thomas, Rick Spragues, Ramona Agriesti, Rachel Potter, Rachel Randal. Row 2: Jodie Jewekr, John Blake, Rodney Walker, Mark Jewekr, Melinda Paepcke.

The Annapolis Senior High Music Club, directed by Agnes Abernathy, is an appreciation and music lovers club. The Music Club has participated in many activities this year, including visiting the Lyric Theater, Christmas carolling, adopting a grandmother and ushering at all AHS play productions.

EBONY AND IVORY

Together in Perfect Harmony

The Student Advisory Committee, led by Mr. George Trotter, is dedicated to fostering good relationships between all of the students at Annapolis Senior High School.

This year was a very successful one for the SAC. They raised money by selling school jackets and sponsoring a number of Ebony fashion shows in which the members of the SAC and other students from Annapolis modeled the latest fashion trends.

The SAC entered a float in the Homecoming Parade that had the theme of the top ten hit, "Ebony and Ivory", by Stevie Wonder and Paul McCartney. The float won first prize in the parade and was highly praised for its meaningful theme.

Top Right: "We are family" Top Left: Mr. Trotter and the members of SAC have a good working relationship.
Below: "Can you believe this guy?!"

PROMOTING TOGETHERNESS

Row 1: Jo Ellen Jeweler, Mrs. Scott, Mr. Meyers, Dorothy Hayward. Row 2: Latanya Thompson, Andrea Stevens, Kathy Pierce.

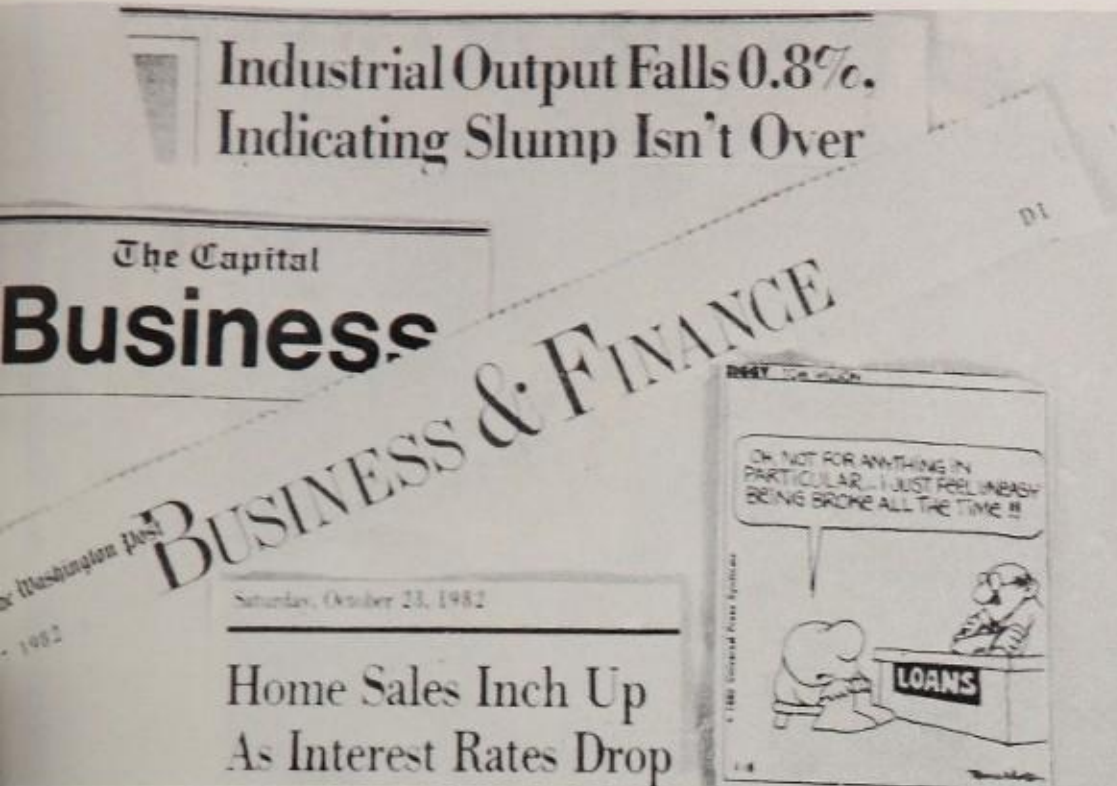

The goal of the Human Relations Committee is to foster a better relationship between students, faculty and the community. The committee was very active and participated in many activities to achieve the goal of togetherness. During Thanksgiving they donated food baskets to the Timothy House and Glenwood Senior Citizen Highrise. They also prepared Christmas baskets which were donated to needy families. During American Education Week the Human Relations Committee sponsored the open house at our school. The committee was quite active during Brotherhood Month. They held a 'Mystery Person' contest, which quizzed students on persons active in the Human Rights Movement. The committee also participated in a Careers Day program and an Ethnic Luncheon in February. The Human Relation Committee was sponsored and directed by Mrs. Scott.

A Year Passes

... and '83 is exception

By the end of August, most of us were ready to get back to school, to see friends, to have something to do! Two weeks later, we were moaning for June, and for getting OUT! Now we're getting our wish. Everyone looks forward to summer. The seniors look ahead to college and the world of work. But school did hold some good times. Oh sure, at 5:30 in the morning when the alarm rang, at 1:55 when we were waiting for the bell, and during exams, we said it wasn't worth it. But time and time again we've changed our minds. A football game, a dance, or a play has made everyone feel a little better now and then. Can it be over already? But it was only yesterday . . . Yesterday is over. Many moments will re-enter our minds time and time again. And we will laugh at things we did — and regret things we didn't. A year passes swiftly . . .

Swiftly

... a year of change, not just for us, but also for the world around us. Consider the world we live in ... miraculous, isn't it? Well, maybe not to us, but that's because we live here — now. Can you imagine what people who went to high school in 1883 would think of the things we take for granted as normal: MTV? McDonald's? Pacman? a concert at the Capital Center or Merriweather Post? Can you imagine them driving cars to school? Partying on the weekend? Carrying radios the size of T.V. sets? Watching General Hospital? Names like The Clash, The S.O.S. Band, B 52's, Talking Heads, The Gap Band, The Doors, Lynard Skynard, The Cars, or The Rolling Stones would sound as foreign to them as the music these groups play. We just accept it all as part of life in 1983. Countries at war, economic hardship, unemployment, and crime are as much a part of it all as the regular flights of the space shuttle and the use of the first artificial heart. This is the story of 1983 ...

the story of

Seniors

can you remember . . .

Mornings in the parking lot . . .
 And pep rallies in lunch . . .
 The super season of the Terps . . .
 Mancini's lethal punch?
 Freezing at the football games . . .
 Graffiti on the wall . . .
 Rubbing the Falcons in the dirt . . .
 Punk Rock Day in the fall?
 Living through our sophomore year . . .
 The striking NFL . . .
 Longing for Ocean City . . .
 As we were late for every bell?
 The chaos at the Gong Show . . .
 Or the Redskins' victory . . .
 Mr. Ensor dressed as Santa . . .
 And (finally) New Years — 83!
 Being kicked out of the library . . .
 The weekend party fun . . .
 The sudden death of Brezhnev . . .
 And our summer in the sun?
 Lunches at McDonald's . . .
 And the craze over E.T. . . .
 The Homecoming festivities . . .
 The Cardinals, 4 to 3?
 Measuring for caps and gowns . . .
 And ordering invitations . . .
 A few successful ball games . . .
 And the following celebrations?
 The crazy winter weather . . .
 The lacrosse games played in May . . .
 All of this we will remember . . .
 Long past graduation day.

In Closing...

There it is — 1983 . . . the year in review.
You can watch it pass like all the other years,
Or you can remember it as something special.
Let this book serve as an opening, one into the past.
Look at it often in years to come.
Go ahead — laugh at what will then seem to you
those outdated clothes, those ridiculous fads,
Those silly things you did.
Read the stories
And remember the experiences of the world in 1983
And as you reflect, we hope you are glad that you were a part of what we call 1983:
The exciting and the not so exciting,
The smiles and the tears,
The victories and the defeats.
Most of all, remember that this was OUR year.

Enjoy!
